My brother invited me, Mark
& the kids for a Sun 4th of July at the park he works at.

We've barely seen him since he got hired at Anodyne. They seem to be treating him well
though, and he got a generous discount for us. →

After everything I've heard about the park, I'd be lying if I said I wasn't a little reluctant, but everyone seemed to jump at the idea. I don't want to ruin a fun family trip just because I'm a bit squeamish.

Mystery flesh pit, here we come.

Voyage beyond the unknown and behold a wider world of nightmares and dreams. Seek out the sublime corpus of the cosmos made flesh. Gaze into the mirror well of the deep and find answers in noises, in smells, in macabre and fantastic sights and sounds.

All of the old doubts may return, but we'll be right here with you every step of the way.
